A structured and recognized training

This business analysis training is based on the official PMI guide and the PMBOK®. Over the course of five days, you will explore the key practices needed to succeed in your role as a business analyst. The program covers the full lifecycle of analysis, from identifying needs to evaluating solutions. You will also learn how to collaborate more effectively with stakeholders and strengthen requirements traceability. This training provides a clear framework tailored to the realities of today's projects.

Comprehensive support toward certification

We offer training courses that provide “Professional Development Units” (PDUs). By accumulating and tracking these PDUs throughout your certification cycle, you can maintain your PMI (Project Management Institute) certification.
